16. A feature is to be added to an online shopping website that allows the user to click on the image of a product to see a different, larger, image of the same product.

An example of the intended effect is shown below.

The code used to implement this feature is shown below.

JavaScript Code

```
function changePic() {
    document.getElementById("budPic").style.height="200px";
    document.getElementById("budPic").style.width="200px";
}
```

CSS Code

```
#budPic {height: 100px; width: 100px;}
```

HTML Code

```
 Click on the image below to see it in more detail.

```

State two reasons why this code is not fit for purpose.
